

Called to Serve

The following is a list of lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender pastors, associates in ministry, seminarians, and candidates approved for ordination who have agreed to be introduced to the ELCA at its 2007 churchwide assembly. Included here is each minister's year of ordination, consecration/commissioning, or graduation from seminary; the location where each is currently serving or last served; and the status of rostering with either the Extraordinary Candidacy Project (ECP), with the ELCA, or both.

In the ELCA, a person who is "rostered" is approved by the ELCA for ministerial service, either lay or ordained. Currently, the ELCA requires that its congregations call their ministers from its roster. The ECP is a Lutheran organization that credentials openly gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgender seminarians, candidates, and ordained or commissioned ministers who are preparing for professional vocations in independent Lutheran parishes and congregations of the ELCA. Because ELCA policies currently preclude the rostered service of ministers in same-gender relationships, the ECP provides a means for these ministers to live out their calling. For more information, see www.extraordinarycandidacyproject.org.

Many of the ministers included in the following list are actively rostered, whether it be on the ELCA roster, the ECP roster, or that of another denomination. Others included here are separated from the ELCA roster in one way or another, through removal, resignation, retirement (sometimes early), postponement, leave, being dropped from candidacy, or are awaiting call—all since 2005. There are many others who have experienced such separation before 2005 who are not listed here. The Missing Project, described on page 24 of this booklet, is an attempt to enumerate these ministers.
